How to Get a Library Card

Getting a library card is easy. Adults complete an application at the Library, providing a photo ID and address verification. Children under the age of 18 may get a library card with the signed approval of a parent or guardian. Cards are issued upon completion of the application and can be used immediately. Your card enables you to borrow Library materials, access the Library's electronic resources, and to register for programs and services. For more information on how to sign up for a library card, visit the Library at 6140 Lincoln Ave., or go to: webrary.org/inside/cards.html.

Coming Soon to a Business Near You . . . Look for This Sign

As part of National Library Card Sign-Up Month, we would like to see every resident of Morton Grove have his or her own library card. Morton Grove's local businesses are showing their support by honoring Morton Grove Public Library cards as a very special card. During the month of September, each participating business is offering an incentive, such as a discount or a free gift, when you present your Morton Grove Public Library card.

This program encourages Morton Grove residents to apply for a library card (or use the card they already have), and also familiarizes the community with local businesses. So, show your Morton Grove Public Library Card at any participating business in Morton Grove to help yourself and our local merchants.

Both the Library and the businesses see this program as a way to bring the community together, which is increasingly important in these difficult economic times. The Morton Grove Public Library hopes every resident of Morton Grove will take advantage of this terrific program. Many participating businesses are listed on page 3. Ben Schapiro: From the Director's Desk

A few weeks ago, a number of our librarians and I attended the annual meeting of the American Library Association in Chicago. It gave us a chance to immerse ourselves in the library profession, and to share with and learn from our colleagues. The big lesson we came away with is that these are times both of great challenge and great opportunity for libraries to do what we do best.

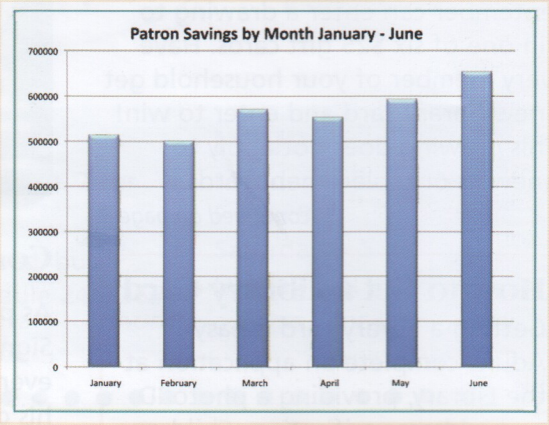
Money is tight for everyone and many citizens are cut adrift of the anchor that is employment or the assurance a steady job brings. As they look for new ways to stretch their budgets, they are taking greater advantage of community resources like libraries.

No doubt many of you have seen the articles and columns in the local and national media about the massive increases in use of public libraries. Morton Grove is no exception to that trend. While the library has enjoyed a steady 2–4% increase in circulation every month for several years, we saw a huge leap of 17% from June 2008 to June of this year.

June also marked the first time that circulation of AV materials (DVDs, video games, audiobooks, CDs) was equally as high as it was for books. More people are also using our services. Public Internet use has grown at such a rate that we added three more computers in June.

Using the public library saves individuals and families money, but what is the savings across the community? Let's look more closely at the numbers for June 2009. We'll use a Return On Investment (ROI) calculator developed by the North Suburban Library System (our regional library system) that incorporates local costs:

- MGPL patrons saved $171,225 by borrowing instead of purchasing adult books.
- Patrons saved $128,805 by borrowing instead of renting DVDs and videotapes.
- Borrowers saved $95,480 on children's book purchases.
- By attending (free) programs at the Library, adults and kids saved $136,575.
- Those who used the library's PCs for Internet access saved more than $16,624 over paying for a session at an Internet café.



All in all, in June alone, MGPL patrons took advantage of materials and services for savings to the tune of $653,996. For the first six months of this year, your savings total $3,382,525, which is $733,510 more than the Library's levy for 2009.

That's almost 3.4 million dollars local residents have been able to put to other uses they deemed important, thus directly supporting the recovery of the economy, both in Morton Grove and nationally. We are delighted that so many of you have taken advantage of our services and collections, and proud to contribute to the financial health of the community by offering them.

How much is a Morton Grove Public Library card worth? Books, movies, information . . . the dollar amount may be more than you think! To find out what your library card is worth, take a few minutes to fill out a Return on Investment (ROI) Calculator for Library Users, either online at www.nsls.info/roi or at the Library. Come to the Library and renew or sign up for your free library card and start saving today!
